

Year of YES!

MAXCELERATORS

Rules of Play

A Note for You

Dear Maxcelerator,

I'm so excited that you're here. You. Not your sister, or your friend, or your neighbor, or someone more famous than you. I'm excited it's YOU.

The Year of YES! Power Team and I have very deliberately asked for "only the right people" to join the Year of YES! Maxcelerators.

I claimed leaders, way showers, light bringers, healers, entrepreneurs, world changers, inspirers, encouragers, joy elevators; the open-hearted, the vulnerable, the brave, the strong, the push-through-ers, the ones who get up after they scrape their knees for the 757th time and try again, the "failures" who persist like a motha fucka until they make it BIG, the outta-the-box thinkers, the paradigm shifters, the synthesizers, the artists, the vibration elevators, and the ones who are takin' it to a Whole Notha' Level.

YOU.

So here you are. What now?

Well, here's a Map of YES!

Tracee Sioux

You're responsible for your results.

This is a self-guided program with self-created results.

You're creating your own life and your own experiences every day. This is true for everyone. I create my experience, you create yours.

I can provide you with all the information I have to help you find your Soul's Purpose, help you develop the audacity to say YES! to your Soul, give you practical skills for living, hand over a mountain of information for developing systems and give you step-by-step instructions for shifting your paradigms and discarding limiting beliefs. And that's just what I intend to do, very generously.

Still, the outcome is all yours. The results you get will be determined by how much you participate in the calls and Facebook page, how many of the #yesdares you actually do, and how many of the online resources you choose to utilize. It will be determined by how often you listen to your Soul versus other people, what kind of energy you bring to the group (and your life), whether you bother to implement the advice and tools, how resistant you are to change, how precious you hold your belief systems, how consistent you are with the practices and whether you can maintain a mere mustard seed of faith.

We're here to help as much as we possibly can. But this is your life. You must take responsibility for being the Co-Creator of it. Because that's where all the magic is.

Energy is Critical.

The group energy is extremely important. In fact, it's the most important aspect of Maxcelerators. That means YOUR energy is critical.

Bring your energy to the group. This is a safe and loving environment with loving, open-hearted people who want to see you shine as brightly as you were meant to shine. We're interested in knowing the real you. Not the "public" you.

We expect you to participate. Don't be an energy suck. I know the Internet is inundated with lurkers and trolls. But this is a Mastermind. Your energy is the critical element. It's not reciprocal for you to come to the group and suck up everyone else's positive vibes and not contribute any of your own.

Be respectful about the use of energy. Many of you use guides, angels, spiritual helpers, and even ETs. That's great. But, some people have issues with you using energetic skills or helpers on them without permission. If you do not have permission, please keep your energy contained in your own energy field, while sharing your light. Respect people's boundaries by asking them directly, Do you mind if I use energy on you, would you like me to send energetic helpers to you?

Keep your energy clean. Bring your best energy and light to the game.

Believe Something & Play Well With Others

We believe in belief. Authenticity and openness are valued here. This is a place of growth, awakenings, enlightenment and spiritual exploration. Bring your religious, spiritual and philosophical ideas to the group so we can engage and explore with you.

This tribe has a lot of colors and sizes and lifestyles and belief systems. It doesn't matter to me, or to the YOY Players, what you believe. We do ask that you accept and love the other Maxcelerators, regardless of who they are and what they believe.

Membership Deets

You paid for a membership. Which means you have access to our online learning portal, the Facebook group, the #yesdare email challenges and the monthly calls for one year from the date you signed up. Unlimited and on demand, make use of it!

Private Coaching

Your membership does not include private coaching by Tracee Sioux or any of The Year of YES! Players. If you really want to take your Soul to the next level, please contact YES@TraceeSioux.com for a Soul Chat about how private coaching can help you.

I do offer private coaching at The Year of YES! and my clients get phenomenal results. Lives change completely with this one year commitment. My clients experiences starting or growing businesses, meeting the love of their lives, increasing their income exponentially, getting physical makeovers, having those babies and just ... getting what you want.

I walk you through, helping you discern your Soul's Voice, explore your Soul's Purpose, hold your hand while leap off scary cliffs, and offer a band aid and a tissue now and then.

I will give you new perspectives, help you change the past, give you really practical business and lifestyle advice (including parenting, body image, relationship stuff) and offer spiritual insights, meditations, prayers, ceremonies and rituals.

If you're ready to take it to a Whole Notha' Level email Yes@TraceeSioux.com to schedule a free 20-minute Soul Chat to see if it's a good fit.

Are Men Invited?

YES! Men are invited to this revolution, this movement, this Sacred Gathering of Soul Worshipers. Come on Ladies, spread your arms wide and welcome any man who's willing to venture onto the Spiritual Path and into a leadership role while standing in his Authentic Masculinity. If we learn one lesson through patriarchal dominance in the last few thousand years, it should be that when one gender leads things get all shitty and out of balance. We're supposed to be leading together.

Women, you might have some issues with "men," it's to be expected. But you probably don't have issues with these specific men, so let's give them a clean slate, a fresh start and a little bit of absolution. Allow them to enter this sacred space and bring with it all the beautiful, sexy, gifts of masculine energy.

Men, read my Invitation to Men.

We're not mental health professionals, so don't take our advice

If you have mental health issues we encourage you to seek help from medical and/or alternative healthcare providers. We are not mental health professionals.

There is no judgment here. However, we are not qualified to give advice about medical or mental health issues. We're giving lifestyle and spiritual advice, not medical or mental health advice.

Some of our Maxcelerator members are mental health or medical professionals, alternative health practitioners, medical intuitives or health coaches and they might give you a friendly suggestion. However, this is in the context of peer advice and shall not be interpreted in any way whatsoever to be professional advice.

Tracee Sioux, The Year of YES!, Sioux Ink, and The Year of YES! Team are not liable for any mental or medical issues that concern any participant in any of its programs, nor are they liable for any advice or suggestions offered by any of its members.

This goes for legal advice too. We're not lawyers, so don't take our legal advice.

Not doctors, so again, don't take our advice.

Advice, Coaching and Calling Each Other Out

We encourage you to provide members of the group accountability, support, encouragement and inspiration. A great many of you have expertise in various healing and coaching and helping professions. Excellent. Let's make great use of that!

If you don't want to be preached to or coached then say so in the original post. It's pretty simple—be clear about what you're asking for and that's what you'll get.

Want encouragement? Say, "I need encouragement."

Want advice? Say, "Anyone have any advice?"

Doing business

We encourage our Maxcelerators to utilize each other's services and buy each others' products.

However, The Year of YES!, Tracee Sioux, Sioux Ink and The Year of YES! Team are not liable for any results, quality or lack thereof of other people's services, business practices, or products.

Because we believe in abundance and declaring that money is the All-Soul Agreement as Earth's currency exchange, we discourage trades between members and ask members to value each others' services enough to pay in full.

Oh and don't be a sleezy business person. Don't blast the group with multi-marketing schemes, don't send mass emails to members, don't hawk your kids' school fundraiser and no affiliate promotion programs.

Sell your services with integrity and don't be annoying.

JV Opps, Copyright Law, Artistic and Business Integrity

This is an exceedingly abundant Universe. There's plenty of fantabulous ideas that need to be born. Open yourself to them and ask for one that's uniquely yours.

I'm open to joint ventures, collaboration and pushing my tribe forward with their own businesses, gifts and Soul Purposes. Shoot me an email at Yes@TraceeSioux.com and let me know how I can help you grow and shine your light brightly.

That said, please don't rip off my stuff and say it's yours. It's taken me a lifetime of extensive study, experimentation, trial and error and decades of discipline to develop my craft so that I could develop these materials, methods and techniques. Artistic and human integrity are at play here. And so is Karma.

All content, art, worksheets, power points, classes, audios, videos, methods, rituals, and practices are copyrighted to Tracee Sioux and are protected under federal law. Now, if you want to give me props federal Fair Use laws are in play. This means with proper attribution (and a link back) you can use small portions of my work for editorial purposes. There is a difference between editorial and commercial use.

Fair Use examples would be:

OK: Tracee Sioux has this really great Soul v. Ego Smackdown and here's a link where you can find it. And this is what I got out of it. ☒ This is paying homage with proper attribution.

Not OK: I reproduced Tracee Sioux's Soul v. Ego Smackdown, slapped my branding on it and called it mine and used it for my own commercial purposes. ☒ this is stealing and against federal law..

OK: I read this amazing blog of Tracee Sioux's and this is one paragraph or phrase, with link and proper attribution that was really important to me and here's what I have to say about it. ☒ this is fair use because it's editorial commentary.

Not OK: I read this amazing blog of Tracee Sioux's and I want to share it so I copy and pasted the whole blog on my own website or FB page. ☒ this is stealing and against federal law.

Open Heart, Zero Tolerance

One of my clients taught me this beautiful concept: Open Heart, Zero Tolerance. People are in this group with open hearts and their hearts must be respected at all times.

Be a great human being. Alternative thinkers, feelers, and liverers have been behaving like well-adjusted and considerate human beings for eons and there's no reason to expect less just because you have a label, diagnosis, cause or medication. No Free Pass for your ADD, ADHD, PMS, Bi-Polar Disorder, PTSD, Addiction Issues, or Lame Childhood.

There will be Zero Tolerance for bullshit, bullying, intimidation, disrespect and assholery. You'll be booted, blocked, unfriended, kicked out and banished. No exceptions. No manipulating your way back in. No refunds.

Politically Correct or Free Speech?

We're going to speak as freely as possible here. Please leave your special interest "stuff" at the door. Don't be so highly sensitive that you lose your sense of humor and inhibit other people's expression.

Meanness won't be tolerated and outright bigotry or hate speech will get you booted.

That said, I'm probably going to say some inappropriate things and throw the F word in for good measure. Because I love language and I like to use all of it. For fun and for accuracy. Feel free to join in some good ol' fashioned wordplay.

There's polite behavior and then there's bullying people into being responsible for your feelings by throwing a pity party for your special interest or playing your pet sympathy card. You know what I'm talking about. You've seen it all over the Internet.

Someone says something benign or has a perspective that's challenging and some energy sucking "advocate" tries to call them out as a racist, bigot, anti-feminist, gay hater, or someone who is insensitive to retarded people even though everyone knows it wasn't really about that. They take it out of context to bully another person into sharing their perspective and call it advocacy or cause education. Uh uh. We're not doing that here.

If another person “offends” you, ask first whether you’re making something that’s not about you, about you. Cause if you know it’s not about you, then don’t be a dick about it.

Speakers are responsible for what they say. Be a responsible and respectful speaker.

Hearers are responsible for how they interpret what they hear and whether or not they take offense. Be a responsible and respectful hearer.

Refund?

Nope, there are no refunds. That’s what the word commitment means. You’re committing to your Soul. I can’t make you participate, or use what’s being offered here. But I can give you a small $222 incentive to stay in the game of your own life.

If you get booted, just consider it a Karmic Debt paid.

We’re all about growth and elevating

You’re signing up for a membership program and we’re always going to be changing it up to keep it interesting. We’ll be adding and removing features based on feedback from our Maxcelerators. As we grow and shift and move to the next level we’ll be surveying you to find out how we can get better. Ego loves same. We love expansive possibility. If you have a suggestion or comment please email Yes@TraceeSioux.com.

Share the Love!

We want to grow this tribe with amazing humans. If you know of leaders, light bringers, way showers and world-changers that fit in here, bring them!

Make the most of your membership by doing the work and participating in the calls and the Facebook group.

I’m so glad you’re here!
